

Strategy Pattern

Interchangeable algorithms in separate classes.

Strategy is a behavioral design pattern that lets you define a family of algorithms, put each of them into a separate class, and make their objects interchangeable.